

Between his condemnation in 1520 and his excommunication in Jan 1521, Martin Luther published pamphlet after pamphlet on the State of the Church. He reiterated that men were justified in the eyes of God by Faith alone, without any need of intercession by priests.
He brought reformation into the religious dispute by appealing to the German princes, to put their own churches in order. He rejected Transubstantiation in favor of the doctrine of the "real presence" of Christ in the Sacrament. Charles V (Emper) supported ecclesiastical reform but was a staunch defender of the Roman Faith, & he knew the empire's future was allied to those of the Papacy. He summoned Luther to explain his views at an Imperial diet at Worms. Luther refused to recant his opinions and Charles V (Emper) placed him under a ban, making him an outlaw in Germany. But the ban proved impossible to enforce, and Luther continued his campaign without hindrance.

Luther had an uncompromising nature.

Martin Luther was excommunicated (Jan 1521) by which time German opinion was polarizing into support for Luther and backing for Rome. The Reformation had been set in motion.

In Tlaxaca, Hernan Cortes gained allies from the tribes of Tlaxaca (an independent province) and marched on the AZTEC capital, TENOCHTITLÁN. Emperor Montezuma mistook him for a manifestation of the sun god, QUETZALCOATL, and tried to buy him off with gold. Cortés imprisoned Montezuma, but retained him as a puppet emperor & began a mission to convert the Aztecs to Christianity. Velazquez sent an army against Cortes under the command of PAN FILO DE NARVAEZ whom Cortes left Tenochtitlan to encounter. He defeated Narvaez and returned to the capital to learn that the Aztecs had risen against the Spanish and killed Montezuma. He retreated from the city but recaptured it after a 3-mo siege in 1521. In 1522 Cortes began the process of rebuilding war-torn Tenochtitlan into a new capital, renamed Mexico City; but Charles V (King of Spain) refused to nominate him Governor of New Spain officially.
